

BACKGROUND

The New Growth Group, LLC is a consulting firm specializing in workforce development. We provide Strategic Planning, Grant Writing and Management, Project Management Support, and Program Evaluation services to postsecondary institutions, workforce development agencies and service providers, and nonprofit organizations.

New Growth is looking to contract with highly experienced grant writers that have authored winning federal grant applications to provide overflow capacity for upcoming federal funding opportunities. We have a thriving grant-writing practice that is a critical piece of our overall consulting approach.

The consultants will work under the supervision of the Director of Grant Services, providing extra writing and editing capacity to projects. As of early 2022, our organization has successfully written over $172 million in winning grant applications.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Experience with grant applications for DOL, DOD, EDA, USDA, NSF, DOE, and other federal agencies.
- Strong writing skills, including the ability to take disparate ideas, augment them with research, and weave them into a compelling narrative.
- Ability to identify narrative flow issues, generate recommendations, and implement solutions.
- Familiarity and comfort with deadline-based writing and acceptance of client-driven editing processes.
- Strong attention to detail, time management, and problem solving skills.
- Ability to work independently, be flexible and dependable, and demonstrate initiative and creativity.
- Experience as the lead author of successful Federal, State, or philanthropic grant applications preferred.

REMOTE LOCATION

New Growth is located in Cleveland, Ohio. Work will be remote.
